Understanding Supporting Organizations

A supporting organization is a separate legal entity that qualifies for the tax advantages of a “public charity” due to its affiliation with the Community Foundation. Through establishing supporting organizations, the Community Foundation meets the unique needs of organizations looking for cost-effective, comprehensive operational assistance while maintaining autonomy. A supporting organization is a subsidiary of the Community Foundation that has its own charitable status, board of directors, bylaws, investment policies and grant priorities. Through its close connection to the Community Foundation, a supporting organization is conferred public charity status and receives all of the associated tax benefits.

How it works

- You select the name, identity, mission and issue areas you want to support
- Your supporting organization operates independently as a separate legal entity with its own 501(c)(3) status. The Community Foundation assists you with required federal and state regulatory reporting
- You create a board of directors in cooperation with the Community Foundation
- You and the board of directors establish the investment strategy and grant priorities
- You can rely on the Community Foundation’s community expertise to lead you to effective, innovative organizations and strategies you wish to support — locally, nationally or internationally
- Family members can actively participate in your giving, and you can create a lasting legacy by involving successive generations
- Supporting organizations have no minimum payout requirement
- Unlike a private foundation, gifts to the supporting organization qualify for the highest tax-deduction limitations and are not subject to excess business holdings rules
- Supporting organizations are not subject to the excise taxes that private foundations must pay

Administrative support allows you to focus on giving while we take care of the paperwork*

We provide:

- Consultation to you and the board of directors regarding mission development, grantmaking priorities and communications strategies
- Due diligence and expenditure responsibility for grants you wish to make locally, nationally or internationally
- Request for proposal support, including screening applications and creating reports for the board and grantees
- Corporate recordkeeping for board functions
- Allowance for legal services for initial preparation and amendment to organizing documents and policies
- Branded letterhead, checks and collateral, and website development
- Access to the Foundation’s support staff, systems and facilities
- Financial and accounting services, including GAAP financial reporting, coordination of Form 990 preparation and filing with the IRS
- Annual reporting to state and local government agencies
- Management of all procedures and documentation necessary to be compliant with current laws and regulations

Some services require an additional fee*

Community expertise, based on the Foundation’s long, deep ties to the Greater Atlanta region, allows you to give with confidence

We provide:

- One-on-one consulting with experienced staff members knowledgeable in your philanthropic passion areas
- Connections with other donors and stakeholders with similar interests
- Opportunities to co-invest with the Community Foundation and other Foundation donors
